Cortland senior forward Russ Holland, the Red Dragons' fifth all-time leading scorer, needs 26 points this season to shatter John Snow's school record of 113 career points.

Head Coach Al MacCormack

Allan MacCormack, an instructor in the Physical Education Department at Cortland College and director of Alumni Arena, begins his 12th season as the Red Dragon ice hockey head coach. Last year, MacCormack reached 100 career wins during a school record-setting 14-win season.

The Sydney, Nova Scotia native attended St. Lawrence University in Canton, N.Y., where he was captain and MVP of both the soccer and hockey squads. MacCormack appeared in Sports Illustrated magazine and was presented with the Sports Illustrated "Award of Merit" for leading both the varsity hockey and soccer teams in scoring his sophomore year. He established St. Lawrence scoring records in both sports. His former college hockey teammates included former Chicago Black Hawks head coach Mike Keenan and Quebec Nordiques assistant coach Jacques Martin.

After graduating from St. Lawrence in 1974, MacCormack earned a master's degree in physical education from Ithaca College. He joined the faculty at Ithaca in 1975 as an instructor and coach and remained there until 1981. From 1975 to 1980, MacCormack's Ithaca soccer teams participated in two NCAA Tournaments. In 1980, he was named New York State Soccer "Coach of the Year" and coached the victorious West Division team in the National Senior Bowl in Tampa, Florida.

MacCormack assisted coaching Elmira College to three NCAA Ice Hockey Tournament bids from 1977 to 1980. He won SUNYAC Ice Hockey "Coach of the Year" honors in 1989 at Cortland. The assistant men's soccer coach at Cortland since 1981, Al resides in Cortland with his wife, Shirley, and their children, Amy and Doug.

ASSISTANT COACH

Mark Hudak

Mark Hudak begins his first season as an assistant ice hockey coach at Cortland. Hudak's part-time coaching duties include game and practice coaching, recruiting and working with the team's defensemen.

A 1989 graduate of the United State Military Academy at West Point, Hudak has spent the past three years as an officer in the Army's Field Artillery Division. He was a defenseman on the Cadets' Division I hockey teams from 1985 to 1989.

Born in Cortland, Hudak was raised in Lake Placid, New York, where he graduated from Lake Placid High School in 1984. He also attended prep school at Cushing Academy in Massachusetts.

Hudak is currently attending LeMoyne College in Syracuse to obtain his New York State secondary education teaching certification. He and his wife, Sara, reside in Cortland.

ASSISTANT COACH

Paul Torpey

Paul Torpey starts his first season as a Cortland assistant coach after playing with the Red Dragons the past four years. He was a center on last year's team which recorded a school-record 14 victories.

A native of Amherst, Massachusetts, Torpey graduated from Wilbraham-Monson Academy with letters in hockey and baseball. During his scholastic career he was named a prep school All-New England second baseman.

Currently finishing his undergraduate work in history, Torpey, 23, will assist with coaching duties at practices and games and will help with team recruiting. He is single and resides in Cortland.
